| 15 | Option D is correct | In this sentence, the author expresses the opinion that building bat houses is a "great" thing for people to do to help "these useful creatures." | | | | | | |
| | Option A is incorrect | This sentence is a fact that can be verified. Scientists can study how well plants grow in soil mixed with fertilizer compared with soil without the fertilizer. | | | | | | |
| | Option B is incorrect | This sentence is a fact. People and animals eat plants, so if there are more plants, there will be more food for people and animals. | | | | | | |
| | Option C is incorrect | This sentence is a fact that can be verified; the number of people who build homes for bats can be counted. | | | | | | |
| 16 | Option G is correct | The title of the section "Bat Benefits" is used to indicate that the section will describe ways that bats can help people. The author explains that bats eay pax ¬ M nd M Â ö oe ha¾ a y | | | | | | |
