ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNERS

This section asks questions about how well you were prepared by your EPP to address the needs of students who have limited English language proficiency as determined by the Texas Administrative Code (TAC) 89.1203. Remember to think about your preparation at the beginning of the teaching assignment in the current school year.

TAC 89.1203: "English language learner--A person who is in the process of acquiring English and has another language as the first native language. The terms English language learner and limited English proficient student are used interchangeably."

Did you have English language learners (ELLs) as determined by the TAC Section 89.1203 in your classroom?
